Engine Mastery × Craft

Why the studios winning in immersive need both

Alex Coulombe
CEO, Agile Lens: Immersive Design

ACT I · 1 / 4

Beautiful Demos Are Easy. Shipping Them Isn't.

Immersive work lives or dies in the gap between the trailer and the headset

Engine mastery: it runs, beautifully, on the hardware audiences actually have

Craft: once they're inside, they care

ENGINE MASTERY · CRAFT

Agile Lens: Immersive Design

100+ spatial experiences shipped since 2016.

New York · Real-time studio · Theater, culture and luxury brands

ACT I · TWO HALVES

Photoreal That Actually Runs

Heavy scenes, real hardware

- We optimized photoreal digital humans to run on standalone headsets
- That moved A Christmas Carol VR from gaming PCs to headsets audiences already own
- Increasing access is worth the work, as long as the artistic vision survives

Royal Caribbean · Perfect Day Mexico

Nearly 1,000 guests. Four days at sea.

A hot-air-balloon ride over Perfect Day Mexico, aboard Utopia of the Seas, September 2025 · Standalone headsets, offline, about 10 minutes a ride, run by the client's volunteers from our operations manual

PICO Space Pro

First company in the US with access to PICO Space Pro.

Fidelity That Converts.

Luxury brands don’t buy demos. They buy belief.

Austin Capital Partners · DBOX, creative director and agency of record · Pureblink, VR scene producers · Agile Lens, LBE VR technologists

ACT II · FIDELITY

Four Seasons Private Residences

Lake Austin: luxury homes, toured from a headset

- Buyers walk full-scale, photoreal residences years before they're built
- A wireless, walkable holodeck of about 5,000 square feet: families tour together, no cables
- We engineered the location-based VR, set it up, and ran its first six months of operation

Four Seasons tours at DBOX, New York

Craft Is the Other Half.

Engine mastery gets the scene running. Craft decides whether anyone cares.

A Christmas Carol VR

Live actors. Live audiences. One shared virtual stage.

- Live actors with face and full-body capture perform on the streets of a virtual Victorian London
- Fully remote: actors, crew and audience each join from wherever they are
- Five holiday seasons, 2021–2025 · The final run, December 2025: 15 performances

In Their Words

Raindance Immersive 2025 nominee, Best Immersive Theatre · Audience comments as published on xmascarolvr.com, 2021–2025

"WOW doesn't even come close to describing what I just experienced! I haven't enjoyed 'A Christmas Carol' this much in years."

Robert Copelan, audience
xmascarolvr.com · 2024

"Each year, Agile Lens is like pushing the edge for what's next."

Kent Bye
Voices of VR podcast · 2025

"A Christmas Carol VR is a masterclass in acting"

Raindance Immersive 2025 judges
as quoted on xmascarolvr.com · 2025

"We're extremely curious to see what Agile Lens and their creators do next with theatre in VR"

Ian Hamilton
UploadVR, editorial · 2025

"I sat on that bench and looked up at Scrooge... and [he] emotionally spoke, of me... It felt remarkable!"

Chuck Webster, MD, audience
xmascarolvr.com · 2024

"This was a working glimpse into the future of VR as a medium for Real Time Live Production."

Jimmy6DOF, audience
xmascarolvr.com · 2021

"It was fascinating to see the affordances of VR used in this way. I'd love to see more VR plays done like this."

Claren Naïlo, audience
xmascarolvr.com · 2024

"Agile Lens represents a model of artistry that transcends mediums and time zones alike."

Siobhan Greene, Instinctively Real Media
the show's media sponsor · 2025

"The evolution of this show over the years is remarkable and the performances are top shelf!"

Stephen Butchko, audience
xmascarolvr.com · 2025

"Quite enjoyed catching the opening night of this. The world needs more live VR performances!"

Nick Suda, audience

XR Network+ RSC Challenge 2025 film · Agile Lens

ACT III · CRAFT

Royal Shakespeare Company

Virtual rehearsal tools, developed with the RSC

- Actors rehearse in a 1:1 scan of the Swan Theatre; directors follow along from a laptop
- Built with theater people, for theater people: the script stays in your hand, like paper
- An R&D grant with XR Network+, 2024–2025: tested with drama students, shown in Stratford

Heavenue

Live performance, no building required.

The cloud platform we built for live performance in virtual space: it hosted A Christmas Carol's first season, then the remote audience for The Orchard Off-Broadway, 2022

What Kind of Partnerships Are We Looking For?

Two kinds. Both start with a story you already own or produce.

1 · IP-extension partnerships

With producers and rights holders

Bring the story. We'll build the way in.

An immersive edition of a world audiences already love: live, location-based, or at home

2 · Co-productions from day one

Immersive inside the financing and distribution plan

In the plan, not bolted on after.

Budgeted with the production: new windows, new audiences, assets that carry across formats

How we start

One story.
One audience.
One prototype.

A short, paid prototype of a single audience moment, then a production plan you can finance

Craft makes them care.
Engineering makes sure they can.
